

Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde by Robert Louis Stevenson

- 1 Correct answer (b).
- 2 Student's own answer. Reasonable answers:
 A horror story – the picture on the cover shows a strange and frightening-looking man.
 A ghost story – the man with his back to us is looking at a reflection in a mirror, but it is not a reflection of himself. He could be seeing a ghost.
 A historical story – the top hat worn by the man with his back to us is old-fashioned and so is the beard worn by the man whose face we can see in the mirror.
- 3 Utterson: lawyer/pale face/thin, tall/lives near Oxford Street/55 years old/intelligent
Hyde: a wild animal/ordinary/small/evil
Jekyll: 50 years old/doctor/rich/scientist/lives near Cavendish Square/handsome
Lanyon: old/doctor/looked young/happy/lives in Cavendish Square
- 4 (a) Sir Danvers Carew was killed when he was hit with a walking stick. He was hit so hard that the stick broke in half. The police found half the stick and Utterson recognized it because he had given it to Dr Jekyll for his birthday. The other half of the same stick was found with blood on it in Mr Hyde's rooms. They now have proof that Hyde killed Sir Danvers Carew.
 (b) Jekyll has a letter from Mr Hyde saying he has gone away. Utterson recognizes the handwriting and, when he checks, he discovers that it is the same as the handwriting in Dr Jekyll's will. Utterson now knows for certain that there is strange connection between Jekyll and Hyde.
 (c) Amongst Lanyon's private papers, Utterson finds an envelope marked Private: For J.G. Utterson. Inside it is an envelope marked: Read this after the death of Dr Henry Jekyll. He now knows that Dr Lanyon knows something so strange and important about Henry Jekyll that he doesn't want Utterson to know about it until after Jekyll's death.
- 5 Student's own answer. Reasonable guesses:
 Hyde has killed Jekyll. Jekyll has run away to escape from the evil Hyde. Hyde and Jekyll are the same man.
- 6 Student's own answer. Students could re-read Chapter 10 to get ideas for their answer.
- 7 Student's own answer.
- 8 Student's own answer. Students must decide:
 Would Utterson explain about Hyde in a newspaper article? Or would he just say good things about Jekyll being a clever scientist?
